An exciting first time opportunity: Two special nights presented by High School students that have inside knowledge on self-esteem and bullying issues. These nights will be fun and educational for children ages four to thirteen, and their parents.

In today's society children, having self esteem is extremely important in their growth and development. For our course, we will be explaining to children and their parents what self-esteem is, what can impact self-esteem, and how they can work together to build more confidence. We have planned a variety of activities that are aimed towards enhancing the self esteem of different aged children, and we have a research based presentation for the parents to ensure that they know the importance of self-esteem.
